

Senate Pries Open Income Tax Books To Gaze of Public

Democrats and Farm Bloc Senators Vote To Subject Individual Tax to Curious Eyes.
ONLY 46 SENATORS VOTE ON MEASURE

Effort Will Be Made Today To Repeal Clause Because of Small Number of Votes.

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—With just one-half of the membership voting, the senate today amended the tax reduction bill to provide for opening of all income tax returns to public inspection hereafter, 27 to 19. The action, which came as somewhat of a surprise, reversed the decision of congress two years ago to abolish the law enacted in 1924 which permitted publication of the taxes paid.

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, proposed the amendment and it went over at the end of a long day of debate with democrats generally voting with the western republican independent bloc.

Hold Senate in Session. After the vote, Chairman Smoot, of the finance committee, announced he would seek to hold the senate in session tomorrow until the bill is finally disposed of.

An attempt may be made before final passage of the bill to knock out the publicity amendment because of the small vote recorded on it. A bare quorum was present for the vote. Three members on hand did not vote. The Norris amendment was supported by 12 republicans, 14 democrats and the lone farmer-labor senator. The opposition included 13 republicans and six democrats.

The Roll Call. For the amendment: Republicans, Blaine, Brookhart, Capper, Couzens, Cutting, Howell, Johnson, La Follette, McMaster, McNary, Norris and Nye, Democrats, Ashurst, Benton, Dill, Fletcher, Harris, Hayden, Heflin, McKellar, Mayfield, Neely, Reed of Missouri, Sheppard, Steak and Walsh of Montana.

Farmer-labor: Shipstead, Total, 27. Against the amendment: Republicans, Fess, Green, Hale, Metcalf, Moses, Phillips, Reed of Pennsylvania, Sackett, Schell, Shortridge, Smoot, Steiwer and Vandenberg.

Democrats, Black, Caraway, Hawes, Pittman, Tydings and Tyson, Total, 19.

The publicity amendment simply states that income tax returns shall "be open to examination and inspection as other public records, under the same rules and regulations as may govern the examination of public documents generally."

Prospects of another republican independent-democratic coalition bobbed up during the day also when Senator Reed, democrat, of Missouri, proposed a "rider" to the revenue bill comprising the elements of the demerit relief plan. He offered an amendment which is aimed to permit farmers to import duty free goods to the amount of crops which are exported.

Several western republicans, including Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, have tariff or farm relief "riders" pending. Little hope, however, had been held for their success, as a result of the recent declaration by Senator Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, that the revenue bill must support any "rider" to the revenue bill other than tax reduction legislation.

800 SAFELY LED OUT OF THEATER AS FIRE THREATENS. Pottsville, Pa., May 18.—(AP)—Eight hundred persons were led safely out of the Capitol theater tonight when fire swept through the basement.

The manager of the theater and the ushers directed the patrons through rear exits when smoke blocked the front entrance. Twenty-five firemen were overcome in fighting the fire.

Western States Demand Candidate in Sympathy With Needs; Carolina Quiz Is Snipe Hunt.

BY SAM W. SMALL, Special Staff Correspondent. Washington, May 18.—The going of the campaign funds investigators to North Carolina is looked upon as a snipe hunt. The suspicion that the Smith boosters down there have been heavily financed by the New York managers is generally regarded as far-fetched, and yet the opinion is expressed that the reports should be run down by the committee, as Senator Simmons thinks there is fire under the smoke. He is supported by Senator Heflin who was recently in North Carolina and believes he smells South skunk down there.

So far the Hoover campaign funds have excited the greater comment and the allies against him are playing on them from A sharp to G flat, and should they muster a formidable offensive in the Kansas City convention will endeavor to change the party's southern negro delegates on the ground that they have been subsidized by the Hoovers. It is strongly hinted that money turned over to Ben Davis in Georgia, Perry Howard in Mississippi and other committeemen in the south is to be used for the purpose of securing the support of the colored delegates who have been sewed up for Hoover.

Anyhow the republicans and the democrats are all spurring the campaign funds investigators to keep their probes working and bringing to light any real or imaginary scandal for the presidential nomination.

Practically everyone is convinced that the campaign funds are actually being used in both party prearranged campaigns, but if such is being used in legal or moral corruption it is evidently being done by persons and not by the party itself.

The letter is dated from Atlanta on April 23 and mentions copies from parts of the state have come to light. The letter in full is reproduced here. The captioned words are actually in the original document, said to have been mailed to every klansman in the state.

Letter of Forrest. OFFICE OF GRAND DRAGON KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN REALM OF GEORGIA ATLANTA. April 23rd, 1928. Dear Klansman:—

I have recently returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., where I have been in conference with our Imperial Wizard and National Officers in reference to the "AL SMITH CAMPAIGN."

We find that the "Al Smith" sentiment is growing with such rapidity that unless the Klansmen of America

ITALIA RETURNS FROM LENINLAND. New Land Is Believed Discovered; Next Hop To Be Greenland, Noble Announces.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, May 18.—(United News).—General Umberto Noble brought his Italian dirigible Italia back to his base here today after a 68-hour cruise over the Arctic regions.

Members of the expedition said: New land was believed to have been discovered in the vicinity of Novaya Semalaya and southeast of Lenin land.

Noble was able to make photographic maps throughout his cruise. In the vicinity of Novaya Semalaya he descended to an altitude of 400 meters for photographs and observations but suddenly was forced to ascend 600 meters to avoid dragging the radio aerial across a mountain top. This is where Noble believes he found new land.

The Italia's next cruise, it was announced, will be over Greenland, the north pole and Alaska, and may start Sunday.

2 ADDRESSES URGE UNIFICATION MOVE OF PRESBYTERIANS

Important Rail Merger Sponsored by Van Sweringen Brothers Approved by I. C. C.

ERIE IS EXCLUDED FOR PUBLIC'S SAKE

Loss of Erie Inclusion Hurts Plan for Giant Trunk Line; Ends Long Fight.

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—A partial and conditional permission was given today by the interstate commerce commission for the first important merger of railroads in eastern territory which has been undertaken since railroad consolidations were authorized by federal law.

The decision gave the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad authority to purchase stock amounting to control in the Pere Marquette system, and to set up for unified operation a consolidated railroad system which will include the 2,650 miles of the Chesapeake's lines and the 2,280 miles of the Pere Marquette in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Canada.

At the same time the Chesapeake & Ohio was refused permission to take over the Erie railroad, and the 2,641 miles of that railroad, tentatively included by the backers of the merger scheme, was left out of the new alignment.

The program allowed will enable the Chesapeake & Ohio to issue $20,000,000 in par value of new common stock to its present stockholders at $150 per share to furnish funds for the Pere Marquette acquisition.

The decision amounts to a partial success in the endeavors of O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, and their associates to build up a first-class railroad consolidation in eastern territory. The first Van Sweringen merger plan, rejected two years ago by the commission, called for the inclusion of the Chesapeake in a single system with the Erie, Pere Marquette and Nickel Plate railroads as well.

All four of the systems being controlled by the same ownership. On the heels of their first failure to obtain commission approval, the Van Sweringens put forward a second plan, which was dealt with today.

HANSSELL IN CLASH WITH DONALDSON

Chief of Construction Race Proves Center of Interest at Rally in Fifth Ward.

Fireworks started Friday night in the campaign for offices to be filled in the city primary in June when a heated clash occurred between William A. Hanssell, chief of construction, and his opponent, Clarke Donaldson, a former aid in the construction office.

The meeting was held at the corner of Hemphill and Tenth streets sponsored by friends of James E. Bowden in the interest of his race for re-nomination for councilman.

Mr. Hanssell mounted the rostrum first and in the course of his speech stated that he had discharged Mr. Donaldson from the construction office because he was disloyal, had failed to cooperate and that on two occasions he had come to the office in an intoxicated condition.

When Mr. Donaldson's time came to speak he made a final denial of all the charges made against him by his former superior. Pointing his finger

SMITH LEADING WALSH AND REED IN OREGON POLL

Portland, Ore., May 18.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, continued to lead the field of moderate presidential candidates in the Oregon primary election held today.

Reforms were tabulated from scattering precincts throughout the state in today's primary election. Smith had 297 votes in 151 precincts out of 1,542 in the state.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, who was on the ballot, although he had withdrawn as a candidate, received 615 votes. Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, received 312 votes. Almon F. Workman, of Missouri, received 87 votes.

For the republican nomination, Herbert Hoover, unopposed, received 4,088 votes in 86 precincts.

CARY PICKS TORO TO DEFEAT COUNT FOR TURF CROWN

26 Entries Expected To Dwindle to Less Than 20 When Claxton Calls Horses to Derby Post.

REIGH COUNT AND TORO FAVORITES

BY WHITTNER CARY. Louisville, Ky., May 18.—Derby eve—that time when social position is forgotten, when wealth plays a secondary role and which rich and poor, high and low, worship before the same altar at the feet of a mighty idol. That idol is King Horse. That occasion is with us. I pity you who have never experienced it. You can't understand.

What matters if the rain fell intermittently all day? What matters if the local Van Herrmann predicts that tomorrow will see occasional showers? Your true race horse fan and he is legion in this section, knows not the meaning of the word rain in reference to keeping him from a derby. They are here. They are still pouring in and they will continue to pour in until the bugle calls the Kentucky Derby field to the post around 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Notables of every description, senators, governors, mayors, congressmen, bankers, business and social leaders and last, but not least, that most beautiful of God's creations—the Kentucky women.

Sail the seven seas, visit all the foreign lands and courts and then come back to your native land and bestow the royal crown for pure steeple, genuine grace and beauty on the majestic heads of the sisters who dwell in this bluegrass state and who gather in the clubhouse of Churchill Downs at derby time. Rain, that unweelcome element which has ruined the past, other climes to drooping and faded flowers, seems but to add more charm and give greater life to the fair sea of this state where a form clad in a hymnal and a horse's blood lines are as familiar as the rules of auction bridge.

Crowds for Derby. Tomorrow's sun will hardly be above the treetops when the vanguard of humanity will pour like a Niagara into the inclosure. No less than 15

DEFICIENCY FUND BILL IS PASSED

Rapid Action on Act Forecasts Quick End to Work of Congress; Amendments Voted.

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—Sipping its legislative machinery into high gear the house set a record to day for recent years in passing a big appropriation bill—the $89,152,885.76 second deficiency measure—in the exceptionally short time of just two hours.

The house also broke all recent records in that less than five hours elapsed between the time the bill was reported by the appropriations committee and sent on its way to the senate. This speed of action was taken at the capitol as a positive indication that the work on the session fast is approaching a close because the last deficiency bill is always one of the final measures considered.

Three Amendments. The house approved three amendments to the bill. One by Representative Morrow, democrat, New Mexico, providing $100,000 for payment of claims growing out of the creation of the middle Rio Grande conservancy district in that state, and another by Representative French, republican, Idaho, which while not increasing the amount of money appropriated, was designed to expedite carrying out of the program for providing new munition storage facilities and for the removal of ammunition from several existing depots. The bill carries $8,108,150 to initiate the munitions program.

Start Other Depots. This will start work on the Hawthorne, Nevada, Hawthorne depots and the acquisition of new facilities at the Cavite, Philippine Islands, station.

French's amendment simply would provide legislative authority for additional appropriations to be made for this work by the house appropriations committee without further action by the house naval committee, which has original jurisdiction over such legislation.

GRESS REPRESENTS TALMADGE IN SUIT OF FERTILIZER MEN

T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general, left Atlanta Friday night for McRae, Ga., to represent the commissioner of agriculture in a suit brought by deposed fertilizer inspectors seeking reinstatement in their posts. The inspectors were named by J. J. Brown, former commissioner of agriculture, and when Eugene Talmadge was elected as Brown's successor he removed the inspectors. The deposed men assert that their commissions entitled them to serve out their terms.

TECH MARIONETTES WILL PLAY TONIGHT

"The Patsy," a comedy playlet, will be presented for the last time this season at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Atlanta Woman's club by the Georgia Tech Marionettes, and a capacity audience is indicated for the presentation of the play, it is announced.

Ansel Talbert will play the feminine lead of Patricia, a role in which he has won much praise for his female impersonation. There also will be three other female impersonators, Hal Williams, director, and president of the Marionettes, who will play the part of the elder sister, Grace; Lester Culver in the role of Sadie Buchanan, and Leon Brown in the role of the mother.

Hudson Edwards, of Atlanta, a character actor of experience, will play the leading male role of Tony Anderson.

"The Patsy" played on Broadway for two years at the Booth theater. It has been presented all over the country by various stock companies.

The plot is cleverly developed around a typical American family, in which the younger daughter gives up her rights to her ambitious mother and selfish sister until she finds herself in love with one of the elder sister's beaux. She then determines to win him and the strategy which she uses provides many laughs for audiences.

The Marionette orchestra will provide music before and between acts, it is announced. All seats are reserved and have been placed on sale at Jacobs Drug store, at Five Points, and the Tech Y. M. C. A., until 6:30 o'clock tonight, after which the remaining tickets will be placed at the box office of the Woman's club.

RADIO-ING

The Air Waves!

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

The hold which television has on the public imagination has been demonstrated by the great volume of letter inquiries received by WGY since the announcement that three half-hour periods would be devoted weekly to television broadcasting.

Not only in this country but in other countries have written requests for information as to schedule and apparatus. The schedule can be furnished, but it is explained WGY is in no position to advise on receiving apparatus. The schedule was decided upon for two reasons, first to provide signals for radio engineers who are engaged in the development of a radio system and secondly to provide a means by which amateurs who have television receivers a signal that they may play with.

The eighteenth annual May festival of Flowers, sponsored by the Uncle Remus Memorial association, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Joel Chandler Harris, in West End.

Mrs. Brevard Montgomery is in charge of the presentation of the festival, costing many thousands of numbers and other details being under her personal supervision.

At 2 o'clock exercises Miss Sara Whitehead will be crowned Queen of the May on the large concrete stage which recently has been erected on the grounds of the coronation several scores of school children will dance for her and act as court attendants to her during the exercises.

After the coronation the children from all West End schools will take part in the rest of the pageantry.

The program will include characterizations of many of the characters famous in the Uncle Remus stories including that famous pair of "Brer Rabbit and Brer Fox."

A small admission fee will be charged and booths about the grounds will sell refreshments of various kinds.

There will be a parade of the old Harris home. The grounds of the old Harris home are said to be particularly beautiful at this time of year and guests are assured of seeing the home in its most picturesque pageantry at the festival.

The state forestry association has asked T. R. Gross, assistant attorney general, to draft a bill to be introduced in congress appropriating $60,000 for tree planting for experimental purposes on a tract of land in Jackson county recently tendered the state by Governor L. G. Hardman.

As soon as the measure is drafted it will be sent to one of the members of congress from Georgia with the request that it be urged for passage at this session of that body.

Hal M. Stanley, corresponding secretary of the Georgia Press association, returned to the capitol Friday after spending two weeks in New York and Montreal on the annual outing of the association. The editors left Savannah by steamer for New York, spent a week in New York and three days in Montreal, Can. More than 100 editors and publishers were in the party, which was headed by Miss Emily Woodward, of Vienna, president of the association.

New State Highway Program Move Toward Business-Like Basis, Says Walter Stewart

Fulton Commissioner, Home From Macon Meeting, Explains Objects of Resolution Passed.

Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the Fulton county board of commissioners, returning from the annual convention of the County Commissioners' Association of Georgia, held this week in Macon, on Friday explained the objects behind a resolution regarding the state highway building program adopted at the convention.

Mr. Stewart hurried back to Atlanta for a meeting of the public works committee of the Fulton board Friday afternoon.

The resolution regarding state highway program was introduced by the resolutions committee and adopted unanimously, Mr. Stewart said. It provides that the president shall create a committee of 12 members of the association, one from each congressional district, and five citizens at large, to confer with the state highway board, the governor, the legislature and others interested, with the object of revising the highway building program of the state that a system of through highways, together with good subsidiary roads, shall be quickly created in Georgia.

Politics No Factor.

"There is absolutely nothing political about this move," Mr. Stewart stated. "It is, in fact, an effort toward friendly cooperation between all parties involved to the end of placing Georgia's highway program on a business, instead of a political, basis."

Mr. Stewart, at the Macon convention, spoke on the state highway problem in his address, which was a feature of the program. He explained Friday, however, that the resolution adopted was entirely distinct from his speech and the two events were of entirely separate origin.

Mr. Stewart, in his address, urged adoption of the state bond issue plan for building of the main through highway.

"There are 94 counties in Georgia," he said, "which have issued county road bonds totalling $24,000,000. Two counties defeated road bond proposals and the others have not voted on the question.

Bond Issue Needed.

"The state should issue bonds and reimburse the 94 counties for the bond moneys they have put up for the building of the main highways passing through their counties. Such roads should be exclusively the affair of the federal and state governments, leaving the county free to devote all its revenue to its subsidiary or lateral roads."

"Many of the poorer rural counties of the state have exhausted their finances on building these main highways and have nothing left for their minor roads, thus penalizing their own citizens for the benefit of through automobile traffic."

"Personally, I feel that, although Fulton is the richest county in the state, she would benefit most if the present haphazard method of building one stretch of road here and another there, with county bond money, were scrapped for a business-like, state unit method of completing our main through highways."

"For Fulton's citizens would benefit by the ability they would have to travel by automobile, comfortably and safely, in all kinds of weather, from one end of the state to the other."

Cheer for an Exile.

Denver, May 18.—(Special.)—Home and friends are to be sent to Henry M. McKim, the noted dome figure, self exile in France.

THREE CERTIFIED FOR DOUGLAS P. O.

Washington, May 18.—(Special.)—The civil service commission today certified to the postoffice department the names of Samuel H. Christopher, Alva "White" Haddock and David F. Minchew as eligible for appointment to the postmasterhip at Douglas, Ga.

The department is still investigating charges of misuse of Georgia patronage and circumstances leading to the suicide a short time ago of L. S. Peterson, postmaster at Douglas. Before his act, Peterson shot and killed J. E. Kirkland, a clerk in the office.

Lacy L. Sutton, acting postmaster, was found ineligible by the commission for appointment.

Turkish Cruelty Will Be Related To Presbyterians

A. D. Fairbairn, of Washington, D. C., who is staying at the Southern Presbyterian general assembly to take some action relative to the treatment by Turkish authorities of the Christians who live in that so-called republic, Fairbairn represents the National Society for Human Rights, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

"All we want the assembly to do is to register its disapproval of such practices as arresting Christians for disseminating the teachings of their founder, and to demand that the Turkish government be held responsible for the treatment of the Christians living in Turkey," said Mr. Fairbairn. "This would include a demand for some kind of adequate indemnity for Christians whose lands and other property had been confiscated and whose husbands and fathers had been murdered in the frightful massacres which followed the war."

Charles H. Kirby, one of the founders of the organization, probably will visit the city today. Mr. Kirby is at Chattanooga where he is trying to convince the Baptist assembly that some action should be taken to voice their aversion to the course of Kemal Pasha, the head of the Turkish government.

Among those helping in the cause are Bishop Cannon, of the Methodist church, south, with headquarters at Washington; R. Fulton Cutting, of New York; Bishop Richardson, of the Episcopal church of Pennsylvania; and 90 other bishops of the denomination, all of whom signed protests against the conduct of Turkey's present ruler.

"Under these circumstances it will be strange if the big assembly of humane and Christian clergy and laymen should let the present opportunity to offer some kind of protest go by," said Fairbairn. "Senator George made a gallant fight against the Turkish claims when the matter was up for consideration a year ago."

COMMERCIAL HIGH ALUMNI TO HOLD DANCE ON MAY 23

The Commercial High Alumni association will hold its annual dance in honor of the graduating class on the night of Wednesday, May 23, in the chapter house of the Atlanta D. A. R. Seniors will be the guests of the association and all friends and alumni are invited.

The dance this year is to be conducted on a leap basis, that is the girls will be expected to "cut" in. Faculty members from the school will act as chaperons and music will be furnished by the Domino orchestra. Tickets are on sale at the Cable Piano company store.

DISABLED VETERANS WILL BE GUESTS AT THEATER PARTY

Disabled veterans of the world war, of the Jolly Harem Jamboree chapter, No. 1, and visiting "buddies" are to be entertained at a theater party at the Metropolitan next Monday as the guests of Julius Setze, local official of the veterans bureau.

One hundred tickets are available and may be secured at the office of O'Glen Ray, national liaison officer of the D. A. V., at the veterans bureau.

"French Dressing" featuring Tois Wilson, is the feature for the Monday program.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS TO BE INSTALLED AT TWO CORNERS

Two new traffic signal lights have been installed at dangerous corners in the city and will be put into operation today, it was announced Friday by R. C. Turner, city electrician.

One of the lights is at the intersection of First Street and Glenwood, and the other is at Grant street and Georgia avenue. Both of these intersections have been the scene of numerous accidents during the past few months and it is thought that installation of signals may serve to forestall further mishaps.

GORDON INSTITUTE APPROACHES END OF SPLENDID YEAR

Barnesville, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—Gordon institute will close one of its most successful sessions May 28. When it opens in the fall it will begin as a junior college, according to L. D. Watson, president. Commencement exercises will begin Wednesday, May 23, with a concert and recital by the Gordon music pupils of Captain and Mrs. G. A. Medall. The graduating exercises for the senior class will be held May 28, when W. F. Jenkins, of Atlanta, delivers the graduation address. Sunday, May 27, Dr. E. R. Markey, of Macon, Ga., will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. This will be given at the auditorium.

Capitol Employees To Form Credit Union At Tuesday Meeting

Employees of the state department at the state capital will meet at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to organize a credit union, it was announced Friday by T. R. Greas, assistant attorney general.

Heads of state house departments have agreed to close their offices at 3 o'clock Tuesday to permit the employees to attend the session, which will be held in the senate chamber. J. B. Boyd and Charles F. Hoke will deliver addresses outlining the organization plans.

SHOT BY HUSBAND, WIFE NEAR DEATH

Waycross, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—There is but a bare chance for the recovery of Mrs. Annabelle Chauncey, estranged child-wife of Lester Chauncey, who was shot by her husband near Homerville last Saturday night, in the same affray in which nine-year-old Ruby Anderson was instantly killed and Jim Lee sustained fatal injuries.

Mrs. Chauncey, in a Waycross hospital where she has waged a desperate fight for her life since last Sunday, has a bullet wound through her head and is almost totally blind. Physicians stated today that there is no improvement in her condition.

Lester Chauncey, who is held in the Clinch county jail at Homerville, has confessed to the shooting. He charges that Lee had alienated his wife's affections and that he shot the pair out of jealousy. The shooting of the Anderson child, sister of Mrs. Chauncey, was accidental, Chauncey told arresting officers.

Physicians today indicated that Mrs. Chauncey's recovery would be nothing short of a miracle.

PEACHTREE WIDENING DECISION POSTPONED

Meeting Friday afternoon to consider the proposed widening of Peachtree street between Ivy and Linden streets committee of the city council, which was held today, was postponed until the next session.

Committee members assigned as the reason for delay the fact that the property owners along the street do not seem to thoroughly understand the proposal at present.

The next meeting of the committee will be held Friday, June 1, and all interested parties are requested to attend so that the matter may be settled at that time. In the meantime, W. A. Hansell, chief of construction, will send a letter to the property owners outlining the proposals to them.

SLAYERS OF PERRY TAKEN FROM WARE JAIL TO SAVANNAH

Waycross, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—Malcolm Morrow and Homer Simpson, convicted murderers under life sentences for the slaying of C. A. Perry, bank cashier of Kingsland, were removed from the Ware county jail here yesterday and have been carried to Savannah, where they will be held in the Chatham county jail for safekeeping. The change was made following their attempted jail delivery early in the week.

Morrow and Simpson are held for Camden county. They were arrested, following the Kingsland crime, at Lakeland, Fla., and were brought to Waycross for safekeeping.

Their attempt to break jail early this week was frustrated when their plans were told to Sheriff Warren by another prisoner.

3 REGULAR ARMY SOLDIERS QUALIFY TO ENTER U. S. M. A.

Using their enlisted service as a stepping stone to securing a commission in the regular army, four soldiers are experiencing the thrill of their first success in striving for that object.

Major General Richmond P. Davis, commanding the Fourth Corps area, has just notified Private Sam Houston Wiseman, of headquarters company, eighth brigade, at Fort McPherson, and Corporal William Hatt Rache, Corporal Thomas R. McDonald and Private Robert Lee Scott, Jr., all of the twenty-ninth infantry at Fort Benning, Ga., that they qualified mentally and physically at the entrance examinations held recently. This entitles them to admission to the United States Military academy, West Point, N. Y., on July 2, as cadets, their discharge from the army taking place at the same time.

BOND COMMISSION APPROVES 2 BIDS

The bond commission Friday morning approved bids on two construction contracts totaling about $10,000. Both of these bids previously had been approved by the proper committees and will be placed before the council next Monday for final decision.

One is for the foundation of the new city hall at Washington and Mitchell streets to the Fleming Construction company on its bid of $2,300. The second is for a storm drain in Candler park which will be built by Hornbuckle Contracting company if its bid of $11,828 is approved.

SON ARRIVES AT HOME OF ALDERMAN MURPHY

Charles Murphy, prominent Atlanta attorney and alderman from the eleventh ward, was receiving congratulations from his friends Friday on the arrival of a young son at his home. Mr. Murphy is chairman of the police board of council.

Mercury Climb May Bring Rain This Afternoon

Nice day, but hot.

That's the weather man's forecast for today. Generally fair weather, accompanied by a warm sufficient amount to the palm beach side, will prevail throughout this section, with the exception of probably local thunderstorms this afternoon in the extreme north portion of the state. C. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, said Friday.

Temperatures today will range between 68 and 84 degrees, almost exactly similar to those of Friday, Mr. von Herrmann said. The pressure remains high over the southeast and low over Iowa, but the weather is cloudy over an unusually large portion of the United States, according to the weather bureau.

BIBLE MEET HELD AT CAPITOL VIEW

A ten-day Bible conference is now being conducted by Dr. W. S. Martin, of Cincinnati, at the Capitol View Christian church. Opened Wednesday night, services have been held each night at 7:30 o'clock. No services will be held tonight but beginning again Sunday the meetings will be held each night until the close of the conference. Dr. Martin's theme for the first three meetings was "The Real Christ."

CIGARETTES, MEATS LOOT OF BURGLARS

Cigarettes, meats and cash formed the loot of burglars who operated in Atlanta Thursday night, according to reports Friday to police.

The meat market of L. W. Corley, at 367 Peters street, was robbed of $5.30 in cash and meats, lard, butter and other foodstuffs valued at $45 by intruders who broke in the rear door, according to a report by Patrolmen Hardy and Carroll.

A Rogers store, at 384 Edgewood avenue, was looted of $9 in cash, cigarettes, lard, etc., according to a report by Call Officers J. W. Lowe and J. H. Crankshaw. Entrance was effected through the rear door.

Burglars who entered a rear window of the Davis Street pharmacy at 124 Davis street, and left by a back door, took with them a quantity of cigarettes and tobacco, according to a report by Patrolmen Burks and Bratton.

Among other losses reported Friday was the theft of a platinum ring, set with a diamond, from Mrs. M. Klausman, of 749 Argonne avenue. John R. Moyer, of Savannah, wrote local police that he was robbed of a white gold watch and a $10 Mexican gold coin on the chain, seven nights ago while waiting in the Union station for a train.

"TINFOIL" CONTEST WON BY HIGHLAND

Highland school won the "tin foil" contest which has been carried on between the Atlanta public schools for the past month when students there turned in a total of 94 pounds of foil. Home Park school was second with 56 pounds. The tin foil is to be sold and the proceeds used to buy milk for undernourished school children.

Near East Relief Drive for Funds Will Open Today

The street campaign of the Near East relief for the sale of the miniature golden rulers, symbolic of their work among the orphans of the Turkish massacres, will begin this morning early enough to catch the thousands who will be going to their offices.

Each donation will be expended in the care of children of Palestine and Syria and other eastern countries whose parents were killed in the world war. The Near East relief feeds, houses and clothes these thousands of waifs, and before being dismissed from the organization's care, each one is able to support himself. Already more than a million of such homeless children have been cared for, who are now old enough to be self-supporting, but there remain 30,000 who were in infancy at the time of the massacres, and who will need attention for some years yet. When they are able to shift for themselves, the work of the Near East relief will be over. This campaign will probably be the last in Atlanta.

The enthusiasm of the workers in the campaign, headed by Mrs. William E. Mansfield, has been so great that the Atlanta sale of golden rulers promises to be just as successful as that in any other city. The national headquarters in New York has been given cordial support by Atlanta civic and social organizations and churches. Dr. H. R. High Moor, rector of St. Luke's church, is general chairman in charge of the Atlanta campaign.

2 FACTIONS CLAIM RECORDS OF CLUB

Affairs at the Atlanta Women's club, which, as the result of a factional fight has two presidents and two executive boards since each rival president named her own board on Thursday, and two treasurers since each executive likewise named a treasurer when Mrs. J. S. Brogdon, re-elected treasurer after serving last year, resigned, were in strict status quo on Friday, according to all concerned.

The main question agitating the rival factions Friday was which treasurer would receive the funds and records of the club, Mrs. Brogdon having turned all her records over to an auditing company when she resigned. It is believed that the funds will be held in this manner until the presidential and treasurer's election is finally settled, in the courts or otherwise.

In the meantime, Mrs. John R. Hornady, one claimant to the presidency, occupied the executive offices at the club where everything, to all surface indications, was running in normal manner.

Mrs. Charles Goodman, heading the other party, was not at the clubhouse on Friday nor, it was reported, were any of her officers. To all inquiries as to her plans for the future Mrs. Goodman, at her home, replied that she had nothing to say.

James A. Branch, attorney for the Hornady faction, and Shepard Bryan, attorney for Mrs. Goodman and her supporters, both declared that no developments had occurred over Friday. They said they had not seen their club clients and had been fully occupied with other professional affairs all day.

DR. M. M. COPELAND GIVEN FELLOWSHIP AT JOHNS HOPKINS

Dr. Murray M. Copeland, a native of McDonough, Ga., has recently been awarded a fellowship at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, according to an announcement from his home Thursday. The fellowship is in surgical pathology and extends over a period of one year. Dr. Copeland won this honor in recognition of research work on bone tumor and a paper written on that subject which was given first place in the April issue of the "Archives of Medicine." Dr. Copeland will take up his work at Johns Hopkins in July and will continue his study and research on the subject of bone tumors and will publish the results of his work.

Dr. Copeland graduated from Oglethorpe in 1925, from Johns Hopkins in 1927 and is now completing a year of intern work in a Baltimore city hospital.

H. S. WILLINGHAM HEADS NATIONAL CONTRACTORS BODY

H. S. Willingham, president of the Willingham-Little Stone company, of Atlanta, and member of the Georgia state senate, has been elected president of the National Terrazzo and Mosaic Contractors Allied Trades association, it was learned here Friday following the annual convention of the building material organization in St. Louis.

Mr. Willingham is a resident of north Georgia but has his office in Atlanta and is well known in business circles here. He has helped organize a contractors' association that is affiliated with the national group he now heads.

Other officers newly elected are L. O. Thompson, of Dubuque, Iowa, vice president; E. R. Fabel, of St. Joseph, Mo., secretary, and M. S. Young, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., treasurer.

THROUGH TRAINS TO RESUME USE OF UNION STATION

Following the completion of temporary improvements at the old Union station, through trains between points in Florida and the middle-west, which heretofore have been using the Terminal station to receive and discharge passengers will again use the old Union station facilities until a definite disposition of that property has been made, according to a notice received by James A. Perry, chairman of the state public service commission from J. R. Hill, resident of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad.

During the time the tracks were being lowered at the old station these trains stopped at the Terminal station.

COUNTY RECEIVES BIDS FOR SEWER ON LLOYD STREET

Bids were received by the public works committee of the Fulton county commission at a session Friday afternoon for the construction of a new Lloyd street sewer, which will be approximately 900 feet long. The bid will be considered at the session of the commission to be held June 6. This project is a joint undertaking of the city of Atlanta and the county each bearing half of the expense. The sewer will cost $200,000. Under the agreement, the city's share of $100,000 is to be paid over to the county and the county will do the work.

Other routine paving projects were approved by the committee for submission to the commission at its June meeting.

Civitan Stars To Broadcast Radio Program Tonight To Win Support for Atlanta's Bid for Convention

Members of the Atlanta Civitan club who will take part in tonight's "on to Detroit" radio program to be broadcast over WSB at 8 o'clock. Left to right, they are Harry M. Root, Roy Petty, Herbert Z. Hopkins, president; J. C. Robertson, B. C. Broyles, Arch Ohliver, Les Hubbard, Herbert Porter, Miss Olive Hall, executive secretary, and Will Griffith.

Leaders of the Atlanta Civitan club and star entertainers tonight at 8 o'clock will broadcast a program of feature entertainment over WSB radio station of the Atlanta Journal, in order to promote sectionwide interest in this city's drive to secure the 1929 International Civitan convention.

Herbert Z. Hopkins, president of the local club, and B. C. Broyles, chairman of its "on to Detroit" drive to secure a heavy delegation of Atlanta boosters at the Detroit convention June 18-20, will explain what the 1929 convention will mean to Atlanta. In addition, Dr. W. W. Menninger, pastor of All-Saints church, and a prominent Civitan, will make a brief inspirational address.

Herbert Porter, director of advertising for The Constitution and president of the Georgia State Association of Civitan clubs, will preside at the microphone and introduce the entertainers. These will include Mrs. Winifred Bird Hopkins, in songs; Floyd and Bernice Jennings, songsters; Mrs. Fred White, in readings; Will and Margie Griffith, in instrumental numbers; and Ray Petty, "king of the voices," and the Civitan quartet.

Civitan throughout the state have been notified of tonight's broadcast and will be listening in when the convention boosters take to the air to win support for their cause.

Dry Men Locate 13 More Stills In North Georgia

The mountain fastnesses of north Georgia, long the protection of the hardy moonshiner and his distilling outfit, have been invaded with telling blows this week, according to reports received by Howard P. Wright, deputy prohibition administrator. Destruction of 13 stills in Stephens, Paulding and Franklin counties took place in the past few days, on the heels of numerous seizures reported from other counties early in the week.

Enormous amounts of still property have fallen into the government's hands this week, and the number of illicit distilleries discovered and confiscated so far this month will probably make May one of the largest in the history of the department, it was said.

Jim Kelley and Dorsey Duvall, of Ayrerville, were arrested while building a furnace for a 50-gallon copper still nine miles southwest of Toccoa, and were turned over to the sheriff of Stephens county, the reports show. The agents also reported the seizure of an expensive touring car and 50 gallons of whisky in Stephens county, but did not catch the driver of the car.

Stills seized near Toccoa, in Stephens county, follow: One 30-gallon copper outfit, with 200 gallons of beer and ten gallons of whisky; one 70-gallon still and 1,200 gallons of beer; one 65-gallon still and 2,000 gallons of beer; and two incomplete stills, with 600 gallons of beer and 91 gallons of whisky. Those seized near Lavonia, in Franklin county, follow: One 70-gallon still, 1,000 gallons of beer and two 60-gallon copper stills and 1,200 gallons of beer; one 150-gallon still and 1,000 gallons of beer; one 70-gallon still, 1,000 gallons of beer and six gallons of whisky. Two incomplete stills, with 675 gallons of beer, were seized near Dallas; an incomplete still with 600 gallons of beer near New Georgia, and a 75-gallon still near Acworth, in Paulding county.

MRS. AURORA HUNT'S WILL IS HELD VALID BY SUPREME COURT

The supreme court of Georgia has sustained a decision of the superior court of Hall county which held that a will made by the late Mrs. Aurora Hunt, wealthy Gainesville woman, is valid. The validity of the will was contested by relatives of Mrs. Hunt when it was found that she had left the bulk of her estate to Brenan College and the University of Georgia.

Mrs. Hunt left a tract of 5,000 acres of land to the University of Georgia with the stipulation that it be used for the establishment of an industrial school, but gave the trustees the option of selling the land and converting the money into a loan fund to help deserving boys and girls of north Georgia to attend college. The will also bequeathed 40 per cent of the property owned by Mrs. Hunt at Tenth and Peachtree streets to Brenan college. The other 60 per cent previously had been given to the college by Mrs. Hunt. Relatives contested the will on the ground that Mrs. Hunt was incapable of making a will because of mental trouble.

Omicron Delta Kappa At Emory University Elect 4 New Members

TWO MEN FOUND DEAD IN ATLANTA HOTELS

Found dead in bed in local hotels Friday when chambermaids entered to clean up, bodies of two men are being held by undertakers pending coroner's inquests, according to police reports.

John Smith, who had been living at a hotel for a considerable period, was found lying across a bed dead when the chambermaid, receiving no response to her knocks, enlisted the aid of a small boy who climbed through the transom and unlocked the door. A physician expressed the opinion that Smith died from heart failure. The body was taken to the parlors of Sam R. Greenberg.

The second man was John Pruitt, according to police records. Detectives said that Pruitt had registered at the hotel many times during the past few months. Pruitt's body was removed by Harry G. Poole, undertaker.

DOWNTOWN BANDIT ASSAULTS CLERK, LOOTS SAFE OF $65

Slung from behind as he sat at a desk in the office of the J. L. Burnett company, wallpaper firm, at 112 Mitchell street, S. W., early Friday afternoon, V. E. Carnes, 25, of 1571 Minns street, was rendered unconscious after which the daylight bandit ransacked the safe and departed with $65 in cash, according to a report to police. Carnes was treated at Grady hospital for the blow on the back of his head.

Call Officers J. B. Wood and Frank Bell were told that Mrs. M. M. Carnes returned to the store and found her son lying on the floor in the rear of one office, in a semiconscious condition. Carnes was revived and told the officers that he was sitting alone in the office, when a man struck him from behind, knocking him unconscious.

4 GEORGIA ARMY MEN PASS EXAMS FOR WEST POINT

Atlanta, May 18.—(AP)—Four enlisted men, one from Fort McPherson and the others from Fort Benning, Ga., have passed the entrance examinations to West Point Military academy and will begin their four-year term there as cadets on June 2. It was announced at army fourth corps areas headquarters here today.

They are Private Sam Houston Wiseman, headquarters company, eighth brigade, at Fort McPherson; Corporals William Hyatt Rache, Thomas R. McDonald, and Private Robert Lee Scott, Jr., all of the twenty-ninth infantry, Fort Benning. They won their appointments in competition with army enlisted personnel all over the country, from which a limited number is made each year by the president.

Farm Electrification To Be Discussed Here At Power Conference

Electrification of farms and rural sections will be discussed probably by Secretary Jardine, of the department of agriculture, and Governor L. G. Hardman and Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the Georgia College of Agriculture, at the fourth meeting of the Southern Appalachian Power conference in October at the Biltmore hotel, according to announcement Friday by Joseph Hyde Pratt, executive secretary.

Commissioners of agriculture of several states have been invited to attend and discuss this subject, the announcement states.

Plans are under way for a complete exhibit of electrical apparatus and equipment suitable for use on farms and in rural sections. The farm agents and home demonstration agents of the counties are being urged to attend it was said.

LOVELL TO ATTEND GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEETING AT TULSA

J. E. Lovell will leave Atlanta Sunday for Tulsa, Okla., to attend the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States as commissioner, representing the Chattanooga Presbyterian Power conference in October at the Biltmore hotel, according to announcement Friday by Joseph Hyde Pratt, executive secretary.

Mrs. Lovell will accompany her husband on the trip and also will attend the sessions of the assembly.

NEGRO SLAYER GIVEN TERM OF 7 TO 10 YEARS

The Fulton superior court Friday accepted a consent verdict under which Will Parker, a negro, will serve a sentence of from 7 to 10 years on a charge of manslaughter. Parker killed his wife, it was stated, when he found that she had been unfaithful to him. Judge G. H. Howard imposed sentence on the negro.

Air Passenger Service Popular In Birmingham

The recently opened air-passenger service over the St. Tammany Gulf Coast Airway lines between Birmingham and Atlanta is proving popular in Birmingham, according to information in the current issue of "Birmingham" official organ of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce. Reservations out of the Alabama city are in charge of C. E. Varn, secretary of the junior chamber of commerce there and it was to a certain extent through the efforts of that organization that this unique service was obtained for Birmingham and Atlanta. It was stated in an article in the "Birmingham."

COMMITTEE TO FIX DATE FOR PRIMARY

Dates for holding the county democratic primary and for closing of entries in races for county officers will be set at a meeting of the Fulton county democratic executive committee to be held Saturday at noon in the county commission's office. It was announced Friday by Claude C. Mason, chairman. The amount of entrance fees also will be fixed.

In the primary two superior court judges, a solicitor general and member of congress are to be nominated. The congressional race is handled by a congressional committee but the election probably will be fixed by that committee on the same date selected for the county primary.

COUNCIL MEMBERS BACK EL SAS PLAN

DRUG ELIAS PLAN

Other members of city council Friday joined in the plan to set up $100,000 in the June finance sheet with which to take advantage of offer of $100,000 from the state to build a playground to establish a play yard at Grady hospital, and public sentiment has so far been in favor of the plan. It is almost a demand that some action be taken immediately in order to acquire the $100,000 which Mr. Elans has offered.

It is the opinion of the majority of the city council is that some move on the part of the city government should be made to get the $100,000 from the state. It is asked that definite action be taken at once in order to prevent further delays. It is pointed out that the offer was made months ago, but because of lack of sufficient funds, the city has not yet possessed the required amount. Stimulations being made by the state to the city and county would provide $100,000 each under the present plan win Mr. Elans furnish the other $100,000 for the project.

Sufficient land on which to locate the playground is available, it is pointed out, and the only requirement is that the money be appropriated at once by the two houses and that the bill be passed and the money in question asked Mr. Elias that their funds are available he will transfer the $100,000 and has promised and actual work on the cotton can be begun.

COTTON FUTURES BILL IS HELD UP FOR CONFERENCE

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—Regarding the cotton futures bill introduced by Senator Smith, democratic, South Carolina, to regulate trading in the cotton futures market was held up by the Senate, to enable the South Carolina senator to confer with Representative Vinson, of Georgia, in an effort to iron out differences between the Senate bill and the one introduced in the house by Vinson.

After an agreement reached on the two measures, it is hoped that hearings will be curtailed with the view of expediting action on the floor of both houses at this session of congress.

BAPTISTS HALT EDUCATION PLAN

Chattanooga, May 18.—(AP)—A two year battle to remove the education board from the permanent program of southern Baptists as a "useless piece of machinery" was terminated successfully today when the Southern Baptist convention voted overwhelmingly to abolish that arm of the church and replace it with an unpaid educational commission.

A day and a half of earnest debate that disrupted the convention program much as it did last year, was culminated in adoption of a resolution offered by Dr. C. E. Maddy, of Raleigh, N. C., which in effect dispensed with an expenditure of $20,000 annually, and placed with the convention's executive committee some $300,000 in debts contracted in the name of the church by the education board.

Special Commission. Instead there will be a commission consisting of 18 members, one from each state, limited to $2,500 annually, in expenses but endowed by the convention as "board fees and month" on southern Baptists in all matters pertaining to education.

Under today's resolution the executive committee will henceforth be considered as "successor in law" of the education board, and will devote the same percentage of the convention's funds now received by the board to discharge of the debts contracted by that board. The change will be effected as soon as practicable under civil law.

Duties of the newly created educational commission, which has not yet been chosen and which will organize itself, were designated to be stimulation of interest in Christian education and a striving for development of "educational conscience among our people."

Maddy Resolution. The Maddy resolution supplanted a plan of the convention's efficiency committee to retain the board with full powers, and was adopted on final vote of 10 to 1, with the aid of a suggestion to retain the board with limited powers as to expenditures. Dr. Maddy had previously offered a resolution to abolish the board outright. The abolitionists pointed to displacement of the board as a complete victory, but the Mullins-backed dissenters of the commission as executive and mouth of the southern Baptist church, as evidence that "the outside world" would not misinterpret action of the convention.

The convention program was restored to some semblance of order after conclusion of debate today, with presentation of various reports and their adoption.

BANKS COUNTY MAN JAILED IN SHOOTING

Homer, Ga., May 18.—(Special).—Daniel Shirley is in jail here charged with the murder of William Simmons in Banks county. The killing took place May 12, 15 miles from Clarksville and about three miles from the Ichauway county line. Daniel Shirley is said to have gone into a field where William Simmons and his father were at work and fired Simmons to accompany him. Nothing more was heard of Simmons until his father went to look for him on Monday morning and found him in the woods near a liquor still that was alleged to belong to Simmons and Shirley. Shirley when found was dead with three bullet holes in his body. Shirley was alleged to have previously made threats against Simmons and the killing took place a short distance from Shirley's home. An inquest was held by the coroner and practically everybody in the community was at the coroner's hearing except Shirley, who was subsequently arrested and placed in Banks county jail.

Dyott Fails To Find Any Trace of Fawcett

BY COMMANDER G. M. DYOTT. (By Wireless to The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance. Received by AMERICAN STATION KCFZ, New York, 24. Copyright, 1928, in All Countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Baurite, Brazil, May 17.—We have made extensive inquiries regarding the supposed appearance of the missing explorer, Colonel P. H. Fawcett, in this district, but there apparently is no truth to the rumors. He has not been seen or heard from since May, 1925.

This expedition to rescue Fawcett, which I am leading in the interest of The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance, has traveled the road where, according to these rumors, he was almost devoured by mosquitoes. Oddly enough there is not a mosquito in this zone. The nights are chilly, and there has been a temperature of 61 since we have been here.

Fawcett Not Seen. If any stranger was seen by the way, as the reports had it, that stranger certainly was not Fawcett, and everyone we have spoken with says the rumors are entirely without foundation.

During our brief pause at this mission station we are arranging our cargo before continuing on to the San Manuel river, 150 miles north-west on the route. Our only means of transport we have chartered motor trucks to carry our luggage, which with the food supplies, weighs more than three tons.

FORMER AVIATOR IS FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING WIFE

New York, May 18.—(AP)—A verdict of murder in the second degree was returned by a jury in the trial of Cecil Clyde Campbell, former pilot of the aviation corps, for the slaying of his wife who was beaten to death with a hammer in a hotel here last February 6.

The jury deliberated more than six hours and recommended mercy. He will be sentenced June 2.

Campbell based his defense on insanity at the time of the slaying. He said he and his wife had entered a suicide pact in which he was to have killed her, then taken his own life. His courage failed him after he had slain her.

FERGUSON SLAYER IS PUT TO DEATH IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Montgomery, Ala., May 18.—(AP)—Confessing his guilt and declaring himself "at peace with God," Jim Grant, negro, went to his death in the electric chair today for the murder last May of J. L. Ferguson, night watchman of an Atlanta automobile plant.

Grant was convicted with Charles Hicks, another negro, of murdering Ferguson. A motion for a new trial for Hicks is pending in the supreme court.

Insurance Companies Must Pay Alabama State Tax in Advance

Montgomery, Ala., May 18.—(AP)—Insurance companies doing business in Alabama must pay their privilege licenses in advance and are due thousands of dollars to the state because their licenses for 1927 are based on the revenue law of 1919 rather than the law enacted by the legislature of 1927, according to an opinion made public today by Charlie C. McCall, attorney general.

The legislature's act of 1927 granted certain tax exemptions or credits to insurance companies which were not permitted in the act of 1919. It developed that insurance companies have been paying their privilege license at the close of the fiscal year rather than at the beginning of the calendar year.

LAWN PARTY PLANNED BY PARENT-TEACHERS

The Benton Parent-Teacher association announced Friday plans for a lawn party, between the hours of 5 and 9 o'clock Saturday, May 26, at the home of Mrs. Del. Zuch, on McDonough road. Tickets are being sold by the school children, and members of the association.

At the regular meeting of the Benton P. T. A. held Wednesday, it was decided to purchase a Victrola for the school. Miss Mildred Posey's class won the prize offered for having the most mothers present.

Officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Edward Hamilton, president and Miss Mildred Posey, treasurer.

ALLEGED "3D DEGREE" IN KEPHART CASE

Washington, May 18.—(United News).—A protest that police used "third degree" methods in questioning Leonard Keppeler, agriculture department scientist and one of the victims of a strange assault and kidnapping case, was made to district commissioners by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine.

SEA SICKNESS KILLS 300 JUNGLE ANIMALS

Boston, May 18.—(United News).—The steamer Kahling docked here with 300 of its passengers dead of seasickness. The passengers were jungle animals destined to American circus companies. A rough voyage from Tan, Africa, East Africa, accounted for the many casualties.

Commencement.

Summersville, Ga., May 18.—(Special).—The commencement exercises of the Georgia High school, four miles east of Summersville, will begin Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when the senior class will present a play, entitled "What Happened to Judy." The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday afternoon at 2:30 by the Rev. Mr. C. C. Cline, pastor of the Rome First Methodist church. Monday evening at 7:30 the graduation exercises will take place, with Dr. W. D. Furry, of Shorter college, Rome, delivering the literary address. There are 11 members of the graduating class this year, six girls and five boys.

Rail Director Elected.

New York, May 18.—(AP)—E. W. Beckers, of Minneapolis, has been elected director of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia railway to succeed the late A. W. Thomson. Mr. Beckers also is president of the Minnesota-Ontario Paper company.

SCHOOLS OF WINDER END SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Winder, Ga., May 18.—The Winder schools closed one of their most successful sessions Friday. Excellent work has been done by the pupils and teachers in all three of the schools and splendid results have been shown. Commencement was held in the high school auditorium Thursday night.

Friday night was senior class night, members of the graduating class putting on the program. On Sunday the commencement sermon will be preached by Rev. D. W. Richardson, of Richmond, Va. On Monday night the junior class will give a play, "Safety First," at the school auditorium. On Tuesday night the graduating exercises will be held, when 30 boys and girls will receive their diplomas. Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture, Athens, will deliver the literary address before the graduating class on Tuesday night.

Large Element of Risk. On such expeditions there always are large elements of risk, and we could not afford to enter the wild country badly prepared. Three men at one of the government's outposts were killed by Indians recently, and consequently it is hard to get men to help us. We have selected five good cameramen, and the government is assisting in friendly fashion.

You will next hear from us at the San Manuel river, where we shall require several days to travel across and to load it on the bullocks for Bakairi, two days' march to the north, and we will return here.

We are receiving broadcasting programs on short wave, much to the astonishment of the few persons met. So far we have found no large game, and our only encounters have been with fleas and ticks.

Much appreciation is expressed regarding the outcome of our search for Colonel Fawcett. If we listened to one quarter of what is told we would consider ourselves dead and buried.

Jewish Dramatic Group To Honor Yiddish Humorist

The Jewish dramatic group, of Atlanta, will commemorate the twentieth anniversary of the death of Sholom Aleichem, the world famous Yiddish humorist and playwright, at 8 o'clock Sunday night, May 27, in the auditorium of the Jewish Educational Alliance.

A program has been arranged which will include readings from the works of this distinguished writer and the presentation of two one-act plays, "Must Marry a Doctor" and "The Greenhorn."

The musical program will be under the direction of Enrico Leide, former director of the Atlanta Symphony orchestra, who will lead the orchestra in a series of musical numbers. The singing of Yiddish folk songs will be part of the musical program.

In addition to the literary and musical program a brief address will be delivered on Sholom Aleichem and his place in Yiddish literature.

The public is invited.

TRAIN HITS TRUCK; 1 KILLED, 2 HURT, NEAR LURAY, S. C.

Savannah, Ga., May 18.—(AP)—Joe Bennett, young white man of Luray, S. C., was seriously injured and one negro was instantly killed and another negro probably fatally injured when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a southbound Seaboard Air Line railway train near Luray at 3:20 o'clock this afternoon.

Bennett was driving a truck of the East Turpentine company and apparently through an oversight did not take precautions to see whether or not a train was approaching, it was stated. Immediately after the smash the train stopped and picked up Bennett and the injured negro, bringing them to Savannah, where they were placed in hospitals. Bennett sustained a fractured skull in addition to contusions and bruises, the attending physician stated.

BLACKMAIL CASE DATE POSTPONED AT WAYCROSS, GA.

Waycross, Ga., May 18.—The case against Audrey Herrin, charging him with participation in the sending of the "Three Ghostmen" letter to W. R. Stewart, has been postponed because of prospect of new evidence. This letter ordered Stewart to place $500 at the Kettle Creek church, and threatening to kill him if he did not. Stewart deposited a parcel at the church, but no one came to claim it. The main evidence against Herrin is his own confession.

COUNCILMAN JOHNSON TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Councilman W. R. Johnson, of the eleventh ward, has been removed to a local hospital, where he will undergo a major operation, it was learned Friday. Mr. Johnson, who has served on the council for several terms, is opposed for re-nomination in the June primary.

Day Picks Toro To Come Through in Derby This Afternoon

Muddy Track Grooms Colts In Big Race

Toro is in Top Form and Should Make Trouble for Others Today.

extra betting machines for derby wagers alone will open in the clubhouse around 10:30. The clink of the iron men will form a merry accompaniment to the buzz of chatter that will have but one subject, who will win the fifty-fourth running of the Kentucky Derby?

That answer will be given around the hour of 5 o'clock tomorrow noon. But in the meantime there is no crime in a mild form of speculation. To break the news without further elaboration, this writer forsakes the beaten track, casts his fate to the future and picks none other than Toro, brilliant son of the great mudler, The Porter, to upset the dope and be the first to look the judges in the eye.

I do not fear too quickly, Reigh Count is a great horse. He must be. Everyone says so. But take a peep at the Peckness of Friday, a jockey who, while not the equal of a Sander or a Fater, is head and shoulders above Chick Lane, who will have the leg on Reigh Count. Reigh Count is not a particularly fast breaker. The large field may hurt his chances. They say that the Count can run in mud. There is no doubt that Toro loves a muddy going. His sire, The Porter, was one of the greatest mudlers that ever looked through a horse's eyes. Everything else consider the economic angle. Reigh Count will undoubtedly be a hot favorite, probably 5 to 1 or 6 to 1, while the price of Toro is bound to be fairly high.

Although there always some outsider that may ruin the dope, the race from this angle appears to contain but seven horses that deserve consideration—Reigh Count, Toro, Mistletoe, Bobasha, Strolling Player, Peter Wack and Mattie Flynn. At this hour there are 25 starters to the barrier, but tomorrow will undoubtedly see the field cut down considerably. The track today was a sea of mud. Should no more rain fall and the sun shine tomorrow, the track would dry out fairly well, but could hardly be fast by derby time.

Reigh Count continues to hold the center of the stage. He will unquestionably go to the post a big favorite. But bigger favorites than he have been beaten right here at Churchill Downs. Take a peep back to 1880 when Doctor Knott went to the post a one-to-three shot and was beaten a head by Spokane. Doctor Knott was the shortest price horse that ever faced the barrier in the derby. But there are others that were supposed to stand out horses and disappointments. Remember in 1913 when Don Ruel took the measure of the great Toro. Point. That was a tremendous upset.

Thrills: Drama: Excitement. But upset or not, the race on tomorrow promises to provide plenty of thrills, plenty of drama and carols of undiluted excitement.

All that human hands can do has been done to make those 26 equine things that are slated to face the test fit for the trust imposed in them. The last workout has been clocked. All now rests on the luck of the racing gods. Like Napoleon on the eve of Waterloo, owners and trainers of those 26 steeds anxiously scanned the heavens and viewed the murk of clouds that tomorrow will carry a million dollars worth of horseflesh charging after fame and fortune. What those leaders and that rain-soaked battle will yield in store no mortal can tell.

Tomorrow afternoon some 100,000 fans gathered at the clubhouse to learn what is already written in the book of fate.

Buchanan Wins With Injured Hand

LaGrange, Ga., May 18.—(Special.) Nanny Buchanan, local battler, won a 10-round decision over Rocky Stone, of Wilmington, N. C. here tonight in the main bout of the American Legion card. Buchanan fractured his right hand in the opening round, but continued fighting and piled up a good lead on his opponent.

In the semi-main bout, Dallas Hunt defeated Tom Ogleby on points. Both boys staged a fast and interesting scrap throughout. The fight was over the eight-round route.

CUBS WIN AGAIN.
Chicago, 10, May 18.—Behind superb pitching by the veteran Arrie Neff the Cubs forced the seventh hit in their winning streak by defeating the Boston Braves, 3 to 0, in the first game of the series today.
Neff allowed but five scattered hits, one of which was a home run by Roger Hornsby. Kiki Cuyler returned to the Cubs lineup after several days absence because of an injured hand and poked a homer over the right field fence in the third inning with Maguire on base. The other Cub run came in the fourth inning when Rock sent Grimm home with a single.

GIANTS DOWN CARDS.
St. Louis, May 18.—The New York Giants broke their losing streak of four straight games here today when they routed the Cleveland Indians in three innings, 10 to 0. The victory was the first since May 1, when they defeated the Cardinals, 10 to 0. Old Alex left the field in the third inning, having pitched six innings and five runs in three innings.
Boston, pitching for New York, was found for ten hits, but won his fifth game by a 10 to 0 victory. He pitched six innings, including two home runs by Maguire and Bottomley hit for the circuit for St. Louis.

PIRATES TRIM PHILS.
Pittsburgh, May 18.—The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Philadelphia today, 6 to 4, in the first meeting of the two clubs this year.
Kramer, after holding the Quakers to four safeties in eight innings, was relieved by Grimes in the ninth, with one out, two runners on base and Williams at bat. Paul Wagner grabbed Williams' liner and Grimes threw out Rader to end the game. Miller started for the Phillies but stopped aside for Walsh in the sixth. Baecht also had a run on the mound.

The SPORTLIGHT

Grantland Rice

This present sporting generation can lay claim to the three greatest showmen in sport. They are Dempsey, Ruth and Hagen. Forty years ago there were John L. Sullivan and King Kelly, but there was no golf along serious lines, although almost any brand of golf is pretty serious if you are one or two down.

Around 1900 there were Jeffries, Wagner and Willie Anderson. They were far below the present trio in the showmen's division. Dempsey, Ruth and Hagen have never been occasional showmen. They have continued to repeat for more than a dozen years. They have all been as colorful as a purple sunset, but they have also had something more than color.

Hagen's last party in England is typical of his career. In 1920 he went across to finish fifty-first. A week later he beat the same field in the French open. Just as they were listing him as a third rater he was marching in front of the procession.

Compton beat him 18 up and 17 to play one week. A week later he wins the British open.

Dempsey, Ruth and Hagen haven't gathered their mob appeal from any mere technique. All three belong on the side of power. Of the three, Hagen has the greatest competitive temperament. He doesn't burn up nervous energy as Dempsey has always done. He is less inclined to be worried or discouraged in the face of bad breaks.

When you give some golfers a big gallery it usually wrecks them. When you give Hagen a big gallery he usually wrecks the par of the course.

Dempsey, Ruth and Hagen all like to have crowds around. They like the buzz-buzz of the multitude. Tunney doesn't. And the multitude can sense both attitudes in about two and a half flashes. The solitude that appeals to Tunney would be plain lunacy for Dempsey, Ruth or Hagen.

Dear Sir: If Larry Bettencourt, the St. Mary's all-around star, makes the big league grade, St. Louis Browns will be well fortified against the future. All Dan Howley needs to have a good team is a hustling young pitcher, and Bettencourt may supply that need. Bettencourt was picked up by the American center by many critics when at St. Mary's, and that may be held against him, for no all-American center has done much in baseball. However, the Browns have had fair success with Ernest Nevers, the former St. Paul pitcher, who was picked up by them to take a chance on Bettencourt.

L. P. II.

Dear Sir: I wonder what a role would show to be the favorite club of the average American golfer? I prefer the spoon, and doubt if there are few more valuable clubs in the bag. The nibble, of course, is the most used club in the A. A. G. bag, but what is his for?

SUNDOWN SLIM.

Dear Sir: Jimmy Manion, the well known St. Louis amateur, writes that Frank Craven played six courses in that city while the nineteenth hole was being built, and that he was as good as a champion on the stage. He paired with John Manion in a pre-amateur event, and made a lot of folks wonder why he stuck to the stage. He'll be bad news to his friends when he returns from the corn belt.

The Combination.

A number of bystanders seem to be interested to know just what combination Walter Hagen carries that makes him so good on the fairways as he is on the green. He was supposed to be shipping a year ago and was again, even if the Giants slip, which is no small part of this is due to the fact that New York can draw crowds and the money, and the money can at least help on its way to a flag. It has been said that no one can buy a pennant winning team. This is partly true, but a lot of loose cash around doesn't hurt. Some walls may not make a prison, but as some philosopher put it—they help an awful lot.

New York Pennants.

John McGraw has ten National League pennants to his credit, all won with the Giants, and Miller Huggins is now on his way to his sixth American league pennant, all won with the Yankees.

This makes 16 pennants which the two New York managers will have at the end of the season, if the Yankees win again. Even if the Giants slip, which is no part of a certainty, it must be admitted that in spite of the managerial skill of McGraw and Huggins no small part of this is due to the fact that New York can draw crowds and the money, and the money can at least help on its way to a flag. It has been said that no one can buy a pennant winning team. This is partly true, but a lot of loose cash around doesn't hurt. Some walls may not make a prison, but as some philosopher put it—they help an awful lot.

RAINED OUT.

Washington, May 18.—The Washington Senators game was called at the end of the first half of third on account of rain. The score at that time was Cleveland 1, Washington 0.

YOUNG FRENCH GIRL CAPTURES BRITISH TITLE

Hunstington, England, May 18.—(AP)—Mlle. Manette le Blan, 21-year-old player from France, today defeated Miss Sylvia Marshall, a sturdy English girl, 3 up and 2 to play, to win the British women's open golf championship. The cup, defended successfully by British women for 28 years, until Mlle. Simone Thion de La Chaume won it last year, returns to France.

The new champion gave her putting credit for her all-important victory. "I putted myself into the title," she said.

The 30-hole final match was played over windswept Hunstington ridges something on the order of Wednesday, when Miss Collett and American women were literally blown out of the competition. Today, however, there was no rain with its numbing cold to keep the gallery indoors, and 2,000 persons saw the finish.

Match Ends.

The match ended on the fatal sixteenth green where Gloria Collett passed out and where many other matches ended this week.

The sixteenth tee took a mountainous ridge which features the course and calls for a shot 155 yards toward the sea to a green set in view of sand and rocks.

The English player, two down and three to play in the rushes and could not hit her ball, while Mlle. le Blan went on to win with a single.

The title was really won by the French girl when she holed a 60-foot putt at the twenty-fourth green. The first round had ended all square and for more than a score of holes the two women had fought neck-and-neck.

She holed a 60-foot putt at the twenty-fourth green. The first round had ended all square and for more than a score of holes the two women had fought neck-and-neck.

Miss Marshall topped her brassie into a ditch going to the twenty-second hole. She slipped and she showed her courage by staging a remarkable recovery. She holed the twenty-ninth, the thirtieth, and the thirty-first.

Mlle. le Blan seemed to be growing nervous as her opponent clung to her skirts and she slipped and she showed her courage by staging a remarkable recovery. She holed the twenty-ninth, the thirtieth, and the thirty-first.

Graham Fight Decides Champ

New London, Conn., May 18.—(United News.)—The winner of the 15-round bout between Busby Graham, of Utica, N. Y., and Corporal Elsie Schwartz, of New York, at Elberts field, Brooklyn, "Saturday, May 22, will be recognized as the world's bantamweight champion by the National Boxing association, President Thomas E. Donohue announced today.

The New York state athletic commission previously declined to sanction the Graham-Schwartz bout as a championship match.

Bud Taylor's refusal to defend the 118-pound title in almost two years led President Donohue to withdraw the N. B. A.'s support of the Terre Haute bout as bantamweight champion.

Corporal Elsie Schwartz, recognized as the world's flyweight champion by the New York state commission, is stepping out of his division to meet Graham, Kid Francis of Italy, originally named as Graham's opponent, but Francis sustained an injury which prevented him from entering training for the bout.

Promoter Humbert J. Fugazy will endeavor to match the winner of the Graham-Schwartz bout with Bud Taylor or Kid Francis for another title contest later in the summer.

Horse Guards And Soldiers Clash Sunday

Second Meeting of Two Polo Teams Set for 3:30 O'Clock.

Weather permitting, and it should, according to the law of averages, another polo game will be played at Fort McPherson Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the Governor's Horse Guard team meets the Fort McPherson team for the second time. Several previous attempts to have polo games at the fort have been frustrated by rainy weather. An active season of games between the two teams has been anticipated due to their nearness and to their remarkable resemblance in skill, interest and enthusiasm.

Only one game has been played between the two teams this season—resulting disastrously for the Fort team in a closely-contested game with a final score of 8 to 6. Since that initial game, both teams have participated in several days of tournament play at Fort Benning. Both the Horse Guard and the Fort McPherson teams bowed to superior playing of the Fort Benning teams in two games each. The Fort Benning teams were met at the top of their season after having played together since last fall, whereas the Atlanta and Fort McPherson teams have just begun their present season. The Atlanta team, which won the fall, they met and held bravely against greater skill, faster mounts, smooth team work, but were not able to turn a score. However, playing such odds has served to give both of the Atlanta teams a chance to pick out their weaknesses with a view of playing much better polo. Valuable lessons in riding, stick work and position playing were observed.

The Horse Guard line-up will probably be as follows: Ray Love as No. 1, Joe Clark as No. 3, Wesley Moran as No. 4, and P. D. Hargrave as No. 2. The Fort McPherson team for the day will have at No. 1, Captain A. G. Wing as No. 2, Major G. H. Francis as No. 3, Lieutenant Gilbert Proctor and No. 4, either Major G. I. Tolson or Lieutenant R. T. Foster.

Abe Luckey Wins.

Macon, Ga., May 18.—(AP)—Abe Luckey, finished second in the singles event, smashing 197 targets, while Martin was third with 195.

Among the noted marksmen and markswomen attending the shoot were Mrs. W. P. Anderson, Atlanta, national women's champion; H. C. McKenzie, Atlanta, southern zone champion, and Isaac Andrews, vice president of the Amateur Trap Shooting association.

Miss Margaret Elder Continues To Be Honored at Party Series

Miss Margaret Elder, whose marriage to J. J. Haverty, Jr., will be an event of outstanding social importance of next week, continues to be feted as a series of lovely parties.

Mrs. Frank McLaughlin will compliment her with a tea Tuesday, May 22, at her home on Habersham road.

Mrs. Leon Grove will entertain Wednesday at her home on Habersham road, honoring Miss Elder.

Thursday, May 24, Mrs. Ithodes Haverty entertains at a luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club, honoring this lovely bride-elect.

Miss Ellen Newell's tea which will be a lovely event of Friday, May 25, and will take place at her home on Clifton road will also be a compliment to Miss Elder and the members of her bridal party.

Mrs. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft and Mr. and Mrs. Claude McGinnis, Jr., will entertain Friday evening, May 25, following the wedding rehearsal at a buffet supper at their home in Druid Hills, the guests to include the members of the wedding party.

Among the loveliest affairs of Friday's social calendar was the luncheon at which Mrs. Omar Elder was hostess at 1 o'clock at the Capital City club.

Gracing the handsomely appointed luncheon table were three baskets filled with pastel shaded spring blossoms, including pink roses, yellow snapdragons, purple and white iris and variegated sweetpeas. The place cards were attractively hand decorated and carried in the left hand corner dainty pastel shaded bouquets which were fashioned of candy.

Covers were placed for Misses Elder, Elythe Coleman, Ellen Newell, Ida Sadler, Annie Lou Hardy, Mesdames M. H. Elder, Russell Bellman, Douglas Matthews, Claude McGinnis Jr., Sterling Elder and Omar Elder.

J. F. Hartsough, well-known railroad executive who recently underwent an operation at the Piedmont sanitarium, is reported to be resting comfortably.

Uncle Remus May Day Festival Features Calendar of Today

The annual May day festival sponsored by the Uncle Remus Memorial association will take place at 3 o'clock Saturday, May 19, on the lawn at the "Wren's Nest" on Gordon street. An interesting and varied program has been arranged which will appeal to young and old. Flowering shrubs and foliage will form a charming background for the riotous colors displayed. Miss Sara Kathryn Whitman, May queen-elect, will rule over her fairy court of flowers on the new concrete outdoor platform which has been constructed so that every "tiny tot" taking part in the pageant may be plainly seen from all parts of the grounds.

Side shows, lemonade and ice cream booths are among the attractions. Music will be furnished by the Georgia Military academy. The May pole dance, arranged by Miss Jean Ragsdale, will feature children from Joel Chandler Harris school, and all public school and civic organizations in the vicinity of West End will be represented in a dance feature.

Mrs. Brevard Montgomery, general chairman of arrangements, will be assisted by the members of the Uncle Remus Memorial association, including Mesdames A. McD. Wilson, Hal Hentz, H. G. Hastings, Spencer Atkinson, J. S. Nichols, Taylor Connolly, Raymond O'Kelly, Arthur Hazzard and Warren White. Admission to the grounds will be 10 cents and a small admission fee will be charged for side show attractions.

Attractions will be supervised as follows:

"Br'er Rabbit and De Tar Babies" (ginger bread and soft drinks), will be in charge of Mrs. W. W. Kilpatrick, chairman, assisted by Mesdames Hinton Blackshear, E. O. Thornton, Norman Poole, James Butler, J. W. Preston and Tom Pitt. "Miss Meadows" (sponsored by the Civic Club of West End, Mrs. J. W. Manly, assisted by Mesdames V. L. Patton, Murray Howard, O. E. Thornton, E. H. Smith, H. D. Sanders, Floyd Cox, A. L. Smith and Homer Simpson; flowers, Mrs. Cruickshanks; balloons and souvenirs, Mrs. J. R. Sims; "Br'er Bar" and the honey bee tree (mothers' class of Park Street church), Mrs. M. Herzberg, chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. B. Carter, Mrs. A. L. McDonald, J. L. McDonald; post cards and souvenirs, Mrs. Minnie Hale and Mrs. R. T. Connolly.

Dog Story Features Madison Matinee.

Strongheart, the wonder dog in "The Love Master," will feature the children's Saturday morning matinee at the Madison theater on Flat Shoals avenue. A two-reel comedy and a prolog put on by Faith school will combine a fine program.

The matinee is under the auspices of the Atlanta Better Films committee, Mrs. Newton C. Wing, president. Mrs. N. E. Russell is chairman of the performance. Better Films representatives of the Atlanta schools assist as chaperones each Saturday. The matinee starts at 10 o'clock. Admission is 10 cents for all children of school age and under and 20 cents for adults.

Alumni-Senior Dance Set for Wednesday.

Announcement of the completion of plans for the Commercial High alumni-senior dance to be given at the D. A. R. hall Wednesday, May 23, is made today by A. H. Butler, of the executive council.

Unusual novelty features are to be presented by the entertainment committee.

The dance is open only to the alumni and seniors of Commercial High school.

Tickets for the dance are on sale at Cable Piano company on North Broad street or are available through members of the executive council of the alumni association. The price is $1 per couple for alumni and 50 cents for seniors. The dance will be chaperoned by members of the faculty of Commercial High school.

Normal School Holds Commencement Luncheon Saturday

The commencement activities of the Atlanta Normal Training school will begin Saturday, May 19, with a luncheon given by the alumnae of the institution at their alma mater.

Miss Ruth Green, president of the alumnae association, is planning an interesting program for the luncheon.

Miss Emma Wesley, principal of A. N. T. S., has issued invitations to ten at her home on Peachtree at 5 o'clock Saturday, May 19, in honor of the senior class and the faculty members.

Miss Rutha Wesley, principal of Lee Street school, will be joint hostess at this occasion.

Miss Annie Simpson, assistant principal, is inviting the faculty and senior class to enjoy her lovely garden with her at an outdoor tea May 25.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday, May 20, by Dr. Marvin Franklin at the Park Street Methodist church.

Dr. W. W. Memminger, rector of St. Ann's church, will deliver the baccalaureate address at the graduation exercises to be held at the Atlanta Woman's club Friday, May 25, when 28 students will receive diplomas.

Miss Mary W. Postell and Dr. Willis A. Sutton will also address the graduates.

George W. Powell, president of the Atlanta board of education, will award diplomas to the following students: Misses Margaret Cecilia Bandy, Lucy Jane Bellows, Atha Marie Bullock, Dorothy Coleman, Evelyn Jean Cooke, Dorothy Crumley, Irene Edmond, Mary Jo Florrid, Elizabeth Gowan, Hilda Elizabeth Gumm, Dorothy Laura Guy, Dorothy Hensell, Fanny Helman, Ruth Almedia Hill, Margaret Hester, Myatt, Omie Jackson, Myrtice Pinkney, Myrtle Morris, Mary Noris, Josephine Newbury, Lillian Reisman, Judith Lovejoy Rice, Elsie Robinson, Addie Mae Rogers, Alma Margaret Romer, Annie Decker Staudard, Laura L. Stead, Mildred Minor Swann, Mary Lucille Tatum.

Members of senior class kindergarten primary, include Caroline Bonney, Mary Jeannette Eubanks, Peggy Elizabeth Green, Mildred Hammett, Frances Jeannette Law, Elizabeth Louise Little, Grace Emma McLaurin, Jeannette Fontaine Staples.

Interesting Program Of Writers' Club

Mrs. W. C. Jarman presided at the Thursday evening dinner program of the Atlanta Writers' club. Mrs. Potter Spiker, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Pierpont Spiker, as accompanist at the piano, presented a number of her pupils in a colorful program of classical dancing, while Daniel Whitehead Hicky, chairman of the poetry division of the Writers' club, had charge of the presentation of original manuscripts by visitors and members of the club. The program combined the poetry of motion with the poetry of emotion.

Miss Mary Brent Whitehead, distinguished Atlanta poet, and a vice president of the club, at the request of Mr. Hicky she read her poem, "The Children of the Condemned," which was recently reprinted in the Literary Digest, and has been widely commented upon by leading critics. She also read two other poems.

Miss Virginia Earle, of Agnes Scott college, whose sonnet, "Questions," took the Barrow prize recently offered by the Savannah Poetry society for the best poem written by a Georgia undergraduate, was present, and read her poem.

The following program was presented by the poetry group: Miss Agnes Earle read her poem, "Slime," a tribute to Lindbergh, which was recently reprinted in the Literary Digest, and another of her poems, "The White Doorway." Miss Gray also read "Twilight Harbor," by George Carpenter Harbord, and "Impressions," by Cora Paston Stewart. Mrs. Rogers Wilson read, "The Silent Post," by Dr. Anderson Scruggs; "Youth," by Alfred Kufly; "The Friend," by Ernest Hartcock; "Faint Accomplish," by George Carpenter Jones; "Rest," by Edna Lou Brenner; "Her Hand," by "Come Over to My House," by Platt Young; "Ghost," by Herbert Everett and a short story from the short story division, entitled, "How Absurd," written by Anna Thurman. Mrs. W. C. Jarman read, "To a Youth Killed in Battle," and "The Moon Is a Ploughman," by Daniel Whitehead Hicky; "The Spendthrift," by Marion Olin; "Mary Elizabeth," by Lida Wilson Turner, and a prose-poem entitled, "The Sea and the Sky," by Ashton Chapman.

Mrs. W. A. Robertson read, "Clothes to a Mother," by Mrs. Ben Hill. Mrs. Spiker presented her pupils in a program of classical dancing, including the dances of the Greek, Spanish, Polish and a number of other original artistic interpretations of the dances of various countries and peoples. Those taking part in the program were: Misses Nonie Barksdale, Robert Jester Harbord, Sarah Sharp, Frankie Marbury, Margaret Selman, Marjorie Bennett and Mary Sadler.

The program was concluded by the reading of an ode to Mrs. W. C. Jarman, known to her readers as "Polly Peachtree," written by Platt Young, expressing the affection and high esteem in which she is held by members of the Atlanta Writers' club and by Atlanta in general.

Merry Matrons' Club Is Organized.

The Merry Matrons' club was recently organized at the home of Mrs. Spencer Turner on Grant street.

Mrs. Charles Center Named Head of College Park Club

Mrs. Charles Center was elected president at Wednesday's annual session of the College Park Woman's club. Mrs. Center comes to the presidency with years of successful experience in public leadership, having been repeatedly elected to the presidency of the College Park Parent-Teacher association and to other official positions in connection with the P-T-A work of the state.

Other officers elected were Mrs. L. O. Froenien, first vice president; Mrs. J. T. Gresham, second vice president; Mrs. Freeman Doss, treasurer; Mrs. Eva Thornton, recording secretary; Mrs. T. H. Broston, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. W. Evans, auditor.

Mrs. Palmour's Regime.

Wednesday's meeting brought to a close the two-year administration of Mrs. Oscar Palmour as president. These years have proved to be the most constructive in the history of the club, the charter of which dates back to 1894. The splendid work accomplished and the wonderful progress made are a tribute to the wise and energetic leadership and the pronounced executive ability of Mrs. Palmour, and to the spirit of perfect cooperation which has been evident throughout her administration. Prior to the presidency of Mrs. Kate Green Hess, Mrs. Palmour served as president of the fifth district federation of clubs. Under her administration the district attained first place among the 12 districts of the state. At present Mrs. Palmour is chairman of community service in the Georgia Federation of Clubs.

The outstanding accomplishment of the year just closing has been the erection of a handsome clubhouse at a cost of approximately $12,000. No local enterprise ever created such unanimous interest and concerted effort as did this club project, and the result proved the strength of unity. This building has been equipped with furnishings amounting to about $1,000 representing, in great measure, gifts from local friends of the club and from various furnishing stores of Atlanta, East Point and College Park.

The reports of Mrs. T. H. Porch, building fund treasurer; Miss Annie Thornton, general treasurer, and Mrs. R. T. Adherhold, building chairman, were presented. According to these reports the amount of money passing through the treasury during the past year totaled more than $20,000. Of this sum approximately $8,000 was derived from the actual work of the club in sponsoring projects of a money making nature. Since its completion rentals of the clubhouse to individuals and to other organizations have amounted to $451. All bills of the club up to date are paid in full and a substantial sum is being left in the treasury for the beginning of the new administration.

Reports of officers and chairman showed splendid results accomplished. At the conclusion of the business hour music was furnished by Miss Evelyn Alley, pupil of Mrs. Alice Cox Reines, and the winner in the recent district contest of high schools. Lunch was served by Mrs. E. H. Martin, Mrs. S. W. Dendard, Mrs. F. W. Cooper and Mrs. C. W. Evans.

Former Visitor Here Is Honored In Washington, D. C.

The following excerpt from the Montgomery Advertiser is of wide interest here, Mrs. J. Lister Hill, being well known here through frequent visits. She has been the guest of Mrs. Sam Weyman and other prominent Atlanta women.

"Mrs. J. Lister Hill, wife of the representative in congress from the Montgomery district and formerly Miss Henrietta McCormick of this city, is still being feted as a bride in Washington, D. C., where they will be until congress adjourns sometime this month.

Mrs. Hill attended a breakfast given by the Congressional club, of which she is a member, for Mrs. Calvin Coolidge at the Pan-American union. The Marine band, a noted violinist and soloist furnished the musical program. Among the distinguished guests were Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Charles Dawes, Mrs. Peter B. Guernsey, formerly Miss Vanderbilt.

"Recently Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Hill had as their guest Sir St. Clair Thomas, of London, classmate of Dr. L. L. Hill, who attended the medical association there."

Woodberry Hall Celebrates Class Day.

The Woodberry hall seniors will hold a class day celebration on Saturday afternoon, May 19, at 4:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the school. The program includes the festive chorus from "Aida," a reading of the class poem, by Charlotte Constantine; a senior song, "Mostowski's Serenade," the prophecy, by Miss Sarah Garwood, and the history, by Miss Eleanor Ross. The will is to be given by Miss Eleanor Moffett. Mrs. R. K. Daly, president of the senior tree on the terrace will conclude the program. The alumnae will meet at 4 o'clock preceding class day.

Mrs. R. R. Daly, president, will preside.

Richer and finer and softer—the bread your family and guests will enjoy

SOUTHERN BREAD turns what is so often considered "one-of-those-things-you-really-ought-to-eat" into a real treat. For it is so tender, so fresh, so rich and delicious, that it never occurs to people to eat it because it's good for them. They eat it because they enjoy it—and that's even better for them. Children, especially, like Southern Bread—and mothers appreciate its extra nutritiousness, which builds sturdy, healthy bodies.

It's made as you would like to have bread made—of the finest ingredients you yourself would buy from your grocer, in ovens of much more even temperature than any home oven can be kept. And it's baked twice every day—so that your grocer's supply must be strictly fresh.

It is bread any hostess may serve with pride—that any family may eat with relish and pleasure. Buy this deliciously richer bread at your grocer's.

Three Generations

By WARWICK DEEPIING

Old John Pybus, formerly a bookkeeper in London and later in Waterbury, is serving as a porter in an inn at Castle Craven, when his son, Conrad, sees him there. He's been estranged from both his sons since the beginning of the war, and they have lost track of him. Conrad has been to tell his brother, Probyn, that he has seen his father. Probyn's son, Lance, Pybus, had been his grandfather's dead, but he looks him up at the Saracen Head without telling his parents of the meeting. When Lance returns to Cambridge for the last term he invites his grandfather to visit him there and to take a small room in London and devote himself to writing. His father gives him a modest allowance. He still continues to visit his grandfather secretly. In London Lance meets Olive Gadsden, a neighbor, to whom he is attracted.

INSTALLMENT XXX. THE RENDEZVOUS.

It was the moment to go, and Lance, touched and a little flushed, stood in front of Richard's desk. "I shan't forget this, sir," he said. The clerk eyes looked up at him kindly. "Don't forget—the end of September. Get those three tales done as soon as you can." Lance was descending the stairs. He had been offered a chance such as few young men receive. He had but to keep his word, and Richmond would be to him a literary godfather. But Lance did not yet know his John Richmond as he was destined to know him as a man who had no use for delays, pretensions and excuses. A generous gesture was a generous gesture; let it be responded to.

Mr. Conrad Pybus emerged from a taxi in Chalfont street, a very gloomy Pybus on this May morning, the complete man about town, silk hatted, be-spotted, sleeked into his black morning coat. He tipped the taxi driver a shilling, and was saluted. With his malleable cane under his left arm he walked towards the glass doors of Mirabeau's, and the doors opened before him as before the breath of a god.

A woman with magnificent white hair and wearing black silk came down the showroom to meet him.

"Good morning, sir," she said.

Conrad removed his hat. He was feeling at home with himself and with all the world.

"Good morning. Suppose you can show me some frocks?"

"Certainly, sir."

"Want to buy one—a bet—you know, lost it. That's the position."

"Will you please take a seat, sir. What kind of frock?"

"A thing that'll do for afternoon—or evening—at a pinch. Well, let's say—Ascol. But it's got to be—"

"I quite understand, sir," said the white-haired woman with a gracious and imperious face.

Mr. Conrad Pybus sat down on a black satin sofa. He placed his hat and stick on a white table. The showroom was all white, with a black pile carpet. It was plastered with mirrors. The door of every cupboard seemed to have a mirror attached to it. On Mr. Conrad's right were a series of white boxes in which the mysteries of fitting were observed. Directly in front of him two black curtains leaped back from a white doorway suggested a stage.

The white-haired woman had disappeared. Conrad, pulling off his yellow gloves, felt the need of slow music. The first mannequin appeared, a red-haired girl in a purple and green printed chiffon, miming its between the black curtains. She posed toward Mr. Conrad, her deft blue eyes looking over the top of his head. She walked to the right and to the left, revolved, and passed away with undulations of the hips.

Mr. Conrad smirked. Not a word had been uttered. Not a word would be uttered; that was part of the ritual. A second mannequin, Ha, this was it: both the dress and the girl, Olive Gadsden, in a kind of tomato colored thing, superbly simple and superbly expensive. The frock had that indefinable French manner. It both floated and clung. Yes, Conrad knew a smart frock when he saw it.

Olive's face appeared as expressionless as the wax face of a model in a window, but she fixed her eyes on the man's face and did not look over the top of his head. He was smiling; he nodded his head. He winked at her.

Her right eye flickered out a response. "Thank you. Will you tell madam I'm pleased."

He watched her walk back towards the doorway. His heavy white face had an oily sheen. He was thinking "The clever young devil! She knows what she wanted, and which one to put on. And by Jove—she's a peach."

Madam responded, Conrad was extracting a check book. "I'll take that frock. How much?"

"Forty guineas, sir."

"Right you are. I'll write a check. You will have the dress sent, sir?"

"No, taking it with me. Your porter can get me a taxi. My check's as good as the bank."

"Of course, sir. May I have your name?"
